A Guide to Social Procurement

This guidebook is an introduction to the why, what, and how of social procurement in Canada. It was developed by Buy Social Canada for several audiences: organizations taking the necessary steps towards social procurement implementation; others considering whether to or how to integrate social value into their current procurement practices; or simply those curious about social procurement more generally.

Bill C-344: A Community Building Opportunity

Federal legislative Bill C-344 will allow the Minister of Public Service and Procurement Canada to include an assessment of the benefits that a community derives from a construction, maintenance or repair project. This Bill, which has already successfully passed through the House of Commons, will soon be presented to the Senate for final consideration and voting.

Send an email to your representative to advance Bill C-344 and support healthy communities.
